Capt. Charles Hay, C. S., has been ordered from Denver to Greeley, Col., on public business.

THE NAVY AND MARINE CORPS.

An Annapolis special to the Baltimore Sun says: "For the purpose of ascertaining to what extent an armor plate can be affected by freezing, the authorities at the U. S. naval proving ground Thursday experimented with the French nickel plate, which has been tested on several former occasions with good results. The plate had been frozen to about 4 degrees below zero. The 7th shot fired at the plate, the projectile being of the same character as those used in the test several months ago, penetrated the plate about the same distance that the previous shots did, but did not go through it, and as far as could be observed had no greater effect on the plate than when it was at normal temperature. The test demonstrated that winter weather will not render the armor of our vessels easier to penetrate."

Chief Eng. G. H. White has been placed upon the retired list from Nov. 15.

Lieut. J. M. Hawley has been ordered to duty at the Naval Academy.

Lieut. A. L. Hall has been detached from the Coast Survey steamer Endeavor and ordered to the Franklin.

Don't Live to Eat.

From London Truth.
The persons living to green old age who have come within range of my observation were abstemious themselves, and either sprang from poor families or came from the South, where heavy meals are not enjoyable. M. de Lesseps is almost Oriental in his abstinence at the table, he being of a Southern family and having lived long in hot countries, which are as healthy as any to those who adapt themselves to the climate. Catherine de Medici made it a rule to rise from the table with an appetite, and to prefer lentils and onions and chestnuts to meat. Stanley greatly explains his success when he says that all he wants is a crust of bread, a mouthful of meat when he can get it, and a cup of tea. I once knew an impresario, who was also a Jew. He held carnivorous feeding in horror, and told me he never lost his time seeking for fine voices in countries where fish or meat diet prevailed. The vocal birds are eaters of grain, fruit, and vegetables; no carnivorous one could ever sing a song. It croaks, has a bad liver, and is generally melancholy.

The Benefit of Coffee.

From the Scientific American.
Dr. L. M. Love, of St. Louis, in a paper on this subject, said that his experience for five or six years past had been strongly in favor of taking a cup of strong, black coffee, without cream or sugar, between two glasses of hot water, before rising every morning—at least an hour before breakfast. The various secretions were stimulated, the nervous force was aroused, an hour later a hearty meal was enjoyed, and the day's labor was begun favorably. No matter how the duties of the day and night preceding might have drawn upon the system. Another cup at 4 in the afternoon was sufficient to sustain the energies for many hours. In this way the full effect was secured. If along with this the proper diet was taken at the proper times—and the ideal diet for those who make large draughts upon their nervous systems and expected to have them honored was hot milk—and at least eight hours of sleep were taken out of every twenty-four, one's capacity for work would be almost unlimited.

Furniture at Auction.

Ratcliffe, Darr & Co., auctioneers, announce in to-day's issue another large sale of fine furniture at their rooms for Tuesday next, November 25. This firm enjoys the facility of having sufficient sales and show room to display their goods for exhibition prior to day of sale, when they are sold exclusively within the rooms, which, at any, and particularly at this season, is most advantageous to their purchasers as well as to their consignors, as neither the goods or attendants at their sales are subjected to the cold and inclement weather to which they were forced to submit before the advent of this enterprising firm. The goods for this sale are now on free exhibition at their rooms, 920 Pennsylvania avenue northwest.

THE SONG OF THE SHIRT.

Rub! Rub! Rub!
'Till the arms are weary and sore;
And the more we rub the worse they get—
Those shirts from Baltimore.

Rip! Rip! Rip!
And we get in a terrible rage,
For those brand new shirts we bought last month
Are nothing but tatters and rags.

Grin! Grin! Grin!
We have found our haven at last,
For Miller will make you a perfect shirt.
With every stitch tied fast.

Run! Run! Run!
To him if you would be wise,
And lay in a stock of his beautiful shirts—
Six for nine dollars—in any size.
